

Gifford A. Cochran's Banksia Runs Away From Good Field at Aqueduct Track

ONE MILE HANDICAP FOR SENINGS PARK

Lawrence Waterbury's Colt Covers Distance in 1:37 2-5 at Aqueduct.

RALCO TAKES FEATURE

Beats Vice-Chairman and Round Robin in Glen Cove Selling Stakes.

By HENRY V. KING.

Lawrence Waterbury's Senings Park redeemed himself yesterday afternoon at the Aqueduct track. This handsome looking son of Jim Gaffney came to the races this day at Saratoga heralded as a whirling dervish. Since then he has raced half a dozen times, but not until yesterday did he earn his stripes. In each of his previous starts he displayed a flash of great speed, but he invariably ran in "spots" or else was a victim of a bad ride and was beaten.

In the Handicapped Handicap yesterday he lived up to all the kind things said about him early in the year. He ran a bang-up race and beat a quartet of good horses, including Joseph E. Widener's Pilgrim and John Sunde's War Mask in a gallop. With Clarence Kummer in the saddle he broke on his own, raced Cromwell into submission in the first furlong, then went on alone and without being urged increased his lead with every bound. He closed up the race by a wide margin, finishing second and War Mask third, two lengths further back. Although never urged to his best speed, Senings Park stepped over the one mile route on a dull track in the real good time of 1:37 2-5.

Ralco Wins and Is Bid Up.

The Glen Cove Selling Stakes for three-year-olds was the feature of the card. It brought out three players and it furnished anything but a good contest. Mrs. T. O. Webster's Ralco, an odd-on favorite, was returned the winner, with Bud Fisher's Vice Chairman second and H. T. Wilson's Round Robin third.

Ralco won by two lengths after he had "run out" all through the home stretch. Until seventy yards from home Vice Chairman was at his side. Then the favorite drew away and raced home to a rather easy victory. After the race Ralco was bid up $300. This was not enough, and Mrs. Webster retained him by bidding $3,500.

The Tenny Handicap, a selling affair at one mile and a sixteenth, was won by R. J. Horner's Tenny Handicap, with L. T. Bauer's Sundial II, second and Sunnyland third. The Lamb was much the best, and taking the track at the start led from start to finish, to win by two lengths.

Gifford A. Cochran's chestnut filly Banksia ran a surprisingly good race in the opening contest at six furlongs. She opened early and ended an abundance of stamina. She stepped away from her opponents soon after the barrier went up, and leading all the remainder of the way won by five lengths from the Quincey Stable's Joan Marie. Mrs. Wilfred Vaux's Maiden's Ballet finished third after having been knocked back at the start. Banksia covered the six furlongs around the turn in the good time of 1:12 4-5.

Armistice, a cast off from W. R. Coe's stable, led home a field of players in the second. Carrying M. J. Potter's colors he followed the pace to the head of the homestretch, where he went to the front and won easily by two lengths from B. A. Lane's Paddy Dear. Aurum, belonging to Jefferson Livingston, was third.

After his victory Armistice changed stables. Frank Herald claimed him for

Kummer Will Ride Man o' War in Big Race

THE fact that Man o' War and Sir Barton have been matched to race for $75,000 and a $5,000 gold cup has made no difference in the training methods of Louis Foulet, the young trainer who developed Mr. Riddle's renowned colt. He said yesterday that he is going to carry him along for this race the same as he has for all of his other stakes. He is confident his champion will win and is not worrying a bit over the result. Yesterday morning he had Man o' War out for a mile canter. The colt was full of "run," and Clyde Gordon, who had the leg up on him, had a hard job keeping him from running away. This morning Mr. Foulet is going to give him a fast breeze at a quarter of a mile, and on Wednesday he will send him a mile or so at a good fast pace.

Yesterday afternoon Foulet engaged Clarence Kummer to ride Man o' War in the big race. Earl Sande will have the mount of Sir Barton.

25,000. He will be nursed along and taken to Cuba.

"He's not much of a horse, but he's better than an empty stall," said Herald while Banksia was being led off the track. "I'm going to take him to Cuba, and I think he will win a handicap or two down there."

Larghetto Best With Ensur Up.

A big band of horses, which the racegoers branded as a pack of mutts, were to the post in the final event to race five furlongs. Larghetto, with Buddy Ensur in the saddle, came home in front. Buddy got her away fine and kept her going well enough to earn the major portion of the purse by three lengths. Victor E. was second and War Map third.

Tom Healey, trainer for R. T. Wilson, announced yesterday that he had retired Kirklingwood and Dimehead, his two best two-year-olds, for the year.

William Hogan, the veteran trainer, received a cablegram yesterday from J. J. Parkinson, the largest breeder and owner in Ireland, requesting him to accept and race a stable of Irish bred thoroughbreds in this country. Hogan is considering the proposition. Parkinson is one of the largest breeders in the world, and sends his horses to every country where they are racing. A big consignment of his horses are now on their way to South America. Another boatload is on its way to South Africa. Last month he sold a colt named Tamoree Hey to the Rajah of India.
